PAL Group moves forward with AMOS

Swiss-AS is pleased to announce that flag carrier Philippine Airlines has chosen AMOS as its prime MRO software solution.

AMOS, to be implemented in phases, will support the airline's strategy to insource its line maintenance activities and perform certain M&E services in-house. First phase involves the airline's narrow body fleet of around 48 aircraft to be managed using the system. The remaining fleet will follow in the near future.

PAL is expected to benefit from the comprehensive software package's industry-proven processes in terms of further improving its MRO efficiency and reliability.

Ronald Schaeuffele, CEO of Swiss-AS states: "By welcoming this new AMOS community member from the Philippines on board, we can today gladly state that the AMOS branch office in Singapore is receiving excellent feedback in the Asia Pacific region."

About PAL Group

PAL, the official Philippine flag carrier, is one of Asia's most dynamic carriers today having unveiled a road map that seeks to transform "Asia's first airline" into Asia's airline of choice. With its fleet modernization program, the PAL Group which operates more than 70 aircraft, will have one of the youngest and most modern fleets in the region covering a wide network that includes Asia, Australia, the Americas, Middle East and Europe. PAL is getting ready for the next journey, to become the global airline of choice - at par with the world's best, offering the best value for its customers.
