

Swiss-AS Press Release

Merit Consulting to join Swiss-AS' Partner Network November 2015

Increased flexibility to address customer resource needs during AMOS implementations

Swiss-AS is delighted to welcome Merit Consulting in the circle of Swiss-AS partners. With an ever growing amount of new customers Swiss-AS is continuously looking for opportunities to complement its own implementation services portfolio with services of highly specialised partner companies. Allowing Swiss-AS and its customers to dynamically react on resource needs during implementation projects.

"While working together in our project at Scandinavian Airlines we realised that by collaborating we can further develop our companies and ultimately provide additional value to our customers." says Fabiano Faccoli, VP Customer Services Swiss AviationSoftware.

Swiss-AS will continue to lead all AMOS implementation projects and focus on project governance, knowledge transfer, operational services and business consulting. However customers are now able to strengthen their own organization before, during and after an implementation.

Merit is in the position to provide subject matter experts with practical aviation and AMOS knowledge, who can complement the customer's core project team. The customer will, for example be able to transfer the data migration activities fully to Merit Consulting. Post Go-Live Merit Consulting offers an AMOS 1st level support service, add-on products, reports and integrations to other systems as well as system operations.

"We are pleased that our investment in world-class aviation MRO consultants has given us the status of a partner to Swiss AviationSoftware" says Anders Thern, EVP Sales & Marketing.

Merit has been working on the data migration work stream and providing subject matter experts to the Scandinavian Airlines project. In addition Merit will provide 1st level application support, AMOS Administration and server operation in cooperation with Swiss-AS for Scandinavian Airlines post Go-Live.

Swiss-AS strives to offer customers a comprehensive portfolio of own and partner company services which allow meeting the very diverse service and support needs of our heterogeneous customer base during and after the AMOS implementation.
